Editors vs Tutors

Editors	Tutors
Focus on the text	Focus on the writer's development and establish rapport
Take ownership of the text	Make sure the writer takes ownership of the text
Proofread	Start with higher-order concerns and do not worry about grammatical corrections, or lower-order concerns
Give advice	Ask questions
Look mainly for things to improve	Comment on things that are working well
Work with an ideal text	Trust the writer's idea of a text
Make corrections on the page	Keep hands off and let the writer make corrections; help the writer to learn correctness
Tell writers what to do	Ask writers their plan for revision

Editors vs Tutors

Editors	Tutors ✔
Focus on the text	Focus on the writer's development and establish rapport
Take ownership of the text	Make sure the writer takes ownership of the text
Proofread	Start with higher-order concerns and do not worry about grammatical corrections, or lower-order concerns
Give advice	Ask questions
Look mainly for things to improve	Comment on things that are working well
Work with an ideal text	Trust the writer's idea of a text
Make corrections on the page	Keep hands off and let the writer make corrections; help the writer to learn correctness
Tell writers what to do	Ask writers their plan for revision